FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Dear Prospective Franchisee,

We, The George Telegraph Group, started our journey in the field of education and training since 1920. With the inception of The George Telegraph Training Institute started a glorious chapter in the spectrum of job oriented vocational training in India. In the process, we went ahead to educate three generations of Indians and we are proud that many of our present students are grandsons/ granddaughters of our first alumnae.

The newest venture of The George Telegraph Group is George Telegraph Centre of Paramedical Science. On observing the robust growth of this sector and short fall of trained professionals in this field, The George Telegraph Group has come up with this effort.

A perusal of the succeeding pages will prominently present to you the benefits of entering this field. If you feel that you would like to establish a viable business in the noble profession of transforming the lives of young men and women to make them valuable members of our society we shall be pleased to welcome you to The George Telegraph family.

With best wishes,

Gora Dutta

Principal

THE INDIAN PARAMEDICAL INDUSTRY: ITS ROBUST GROWTH

- India being a country of one hundred and forty crores has a huge scope for the medical industry that has also created a huge scope for the paramedical industry. According to a recent KPMG report approximately more than 5,00,000 trained paramedical personnel will be required in this country in the next three years.
- The Indian society that has been built up on the basis of the principles of tolerance and faith, have created a human resource pool that is caring by nature. So Indian paramedical personnel have a demand worldwide. Particularly in countries like Saudi Arabia, Oman, Iran, Iraq and Turkey, Indian paramedical personnel have filled up the HR requirement and supply gap for years.
- India's association with SAARC and the growth of interactions with the ASEAN countries have opened doors for patients from these countries to come to this nation and get treatments for diseases like heart ailments, cancer, eye related surgeries etc. This has also catalyzed the requirement of trained paramedical personnel in India and the nations surrounding her like Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Maldives, Singapore, Thailand, Malaysia etc.
- There are over 1 lakh vacancies available for trained Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) in India who can be deployed in ambulances, hospital emergencies and trauma care centers. Apart from this there are over 65 lakh vacancies in allied healthcare also such as dental technicians and hygienists, medical laboratory technicians, radiographers among others.

THE PARTNERSHIP INITIATIVE

THE OBJECTIVE

- ✧ Throughout its existence of more than nine decades The George Telegraph Group has strived to eliminate the problem of unemployment by providing job-oriented training to young men and women, thereby empowering them towards a successful career.
- ✧ In this, our policy has always been to concentrate on the underprivileged youth of average merit. Over the years we have built on its formidable reputation and widespread goodwill to reach out to an ever wider population by opening new centres in other state capitals and district towns.
- ✧ The rapidly evolving industrial economy of modern India is generating and increasing demand for skilled human resource and we have decided to increase our services to the nation by accelerating its process of reaching out to the masses.
- ✧ In order to achieve this objective, we have resolved to license the use of its name, its self-developed courses and pedagogical methods to committed individuals, groups or companies who wish to contribute to the welfare of our youth.
- ✧ The George Telegraph Group has always maintained a close liaison with government, non-government and private organisations to ensure the industrial relevance of its courses. New measures have been initiated within its “Continuous Development Process” to guarantee that students graduating from our courses are of a quality above that of any comparable institute.
- ✧ Some of these initiatives are:
  - Continuing education for organisational personnel in new and emerging technology and communication processes.
  - Ensuring academic up gradation of faculty members through workshops and seminars.
  - Compulsory concurrent training of all students of long term courses in English Language and Personality Development.
  - Development and maintenance of academic bodies in India and abroad for access to evolving methodologies.
  - Development and maintenance of associations with manufacturing and service companies to access leading edge training.
  - Industrial consultancy for recruitment and testing of staff.
